Two views. One room.

A little comic puzzle · You need a pencil, and colours if you like.

1 Follow what Lea and Mika say

Draw lines from the speech bubbles to the things in the room.

The picture shows the room the two children describe.

2 Can both be right?

- [ ] Yes. I can find both the lamp and the chairs in the room.
- [ ] No. They must talk about exactly the same things.

3 Your turn: Find two more clues!

Circle two things in the room that neither child mentioned.

Say or write something about one of them:

Wait … two or three?

Another evening: Lea and Mika come into the same room together.

4 Find the difference in what they say

Circle the number word in each speech bubble.

What do they disagree about? Tick one box.

- ☐ How many lamps were lit.
- ☐ The colour of the lamps.

They say different numbers. We must find out more before we can choose the right number.

5 Be the artist!

Draw three things in your own room. Leave space between them.

PLAY WITH A FRIEND

1 Choose one thing in the drawing. Describe it without saying its name.

2 Let your friend point. Swap roles. Keep the picture where you can see it.

On your own? Make a speech bubble for one of the things you drew.
